

Beginner Watercolor Class

With Annette Pokorny

Hello my name is Annette Pokorny, I am a former Art teacher from southern Indiana. I grew up in Nebraska and graduated from Peru State College with a B.S. of Fine Arts, in Peru, Nebraska 1991. After becoming a Mother of three I enrolled in classes at Indiana Wesleyan University in Carmel, IN to complete my teaching license through a transition to teach program in 2005. I have taught elementary and middle school art in the classroom and have found the most joy in doing private classes and lessons. In 2005 I began teaching in Bloomington, IN at the catholic school summer program. For eight years I taught a variety of art classes to all age levels. From 2015 to 2018 I had my own studio "The Artist Palette" in Bedford, IN. This is where I worked with home schooled students, did paint parties and hosted a Summer Art Camp for three years. After my last daughter went to college, my husband and I decided to move closer to our kids In 2019 we built a home in Whiteland, IN.

I have enjoyed getting to know everyone at SALI and look forward to teaching classes. I have taken some of Beverly Mathis's classes and it was suggested that we might need a beginner watercolor class. I will cover different applications for backgrounds and techniques used in basic watercolor painting. Classes will start on March 9th, 2023 on Thursday mornings 10-12 am & evenings from 6:30 pm - 8:30 pm.

Fees start at $36 for three 2-hour classes. Materials can be purchased from me for $10, or you can check the supply list for the class and purchase your own
