About The Juror:

Abigail May Borders

Abigail May Borders is an Indianapolis-based artist and art educator. She holds a Bachelor of Fine Arts in General Fine Arts with an emphasis in Painting from Herron School of Art and Design and completed graduate coursework and student teaching in the Master of Arts in Teaching program at the University of Indianapolis.

Throughout her career, Abigail has taught art to children, high school students, and adults of all abilities. One of her greatest joys as an educator is helping others discover their artistic talents, build confidence, and express their creativity. She has found teaching art to children and individuals with special needs especially rewarding, witnessing firsthand the power of art to inspire imagination and bring people together.

As a practicing painter, Abigail continues to create and exhibit her work in local galleries. Her abstract paintings explore the relationship between color, shape, and movement, creating harmony from chaos.
